BRENDA FRESE

Head Coach • Arizona '93
Fourth Year at Maryland
Seventh Year as a Head Coach

Head coach Brenda Frese was exactly what the University of Maryland Athletics Director Deborah A. Yow was looking for to resurrect a struggling women's basketball program which was once one of the premier teams in the nation.

Described as dynamic, overachieving, determined and enthusiastic, the 35-year-old coach captured her 100th-career win on Feb. 2 vs. Georgia Tech and has compiled a 107-71 (.601) career record in six seasons as a head coach and three stops along the way. Making amazing turnarounds her calling card, the 2002 Associated Press National Coach of the Year has guided the Terps to back-to-back non-losing records in ACC play for the first time since 1992-93 and 1993-94, and consecutive NCAA Tournament berths for the first time in 12 years.

While piling up the victories in three seasons in College Park, mentoring the Terps to their first 20-win season since 1993, she continues to be a workhorse on the recruiting trail signing three-straight top 10 classes, including back-to-back classes ranked in the top five. Her recruiting classes have lived up to their promises. Sophomore Shay Doron was the first-ever Terrapin to be named to an All-ACC team as a freshman in 2004 and, in 2005, was selected Kodak/WBCA Region II All-American, the first Terp to earn the honor since 1993. 2005 also marked the first time in 14 years a Terrapin had garnered ACC Rookie of the Year nod when Crystal Langhorne earned the award. She also became the highest honored Terrapin freshman in school history when she was voted second-team all-conference honors that same season. The Terps' backcourt of Doron and sophomore Kalika France is considered one of the best in the nation.

Despite a roster with eight freshmen and sophomores, Maryland was picked to finish third in a 2004 preseason ACC media poll, with two Terrapins earning preseason honors, including Langhorne, who was selected Preseason Rookie of the Year, the first time a Terp has received the recognition since the polling began in 1991. Frese's young Terps garnered top 25 preseason ratings in both the Associated Press and ESPN/USA Today Coaches polls and rose as high as No. 15 in the AP poll, the highest since 1992-93. On Jan. 9, 2005, Maryland went on to record one of its biggest victories in over a decade, upsetting No. 5/4 North Carolina at Comcast Center. Reaching the second round of the NCAA Tournament for the second-straight year, Maryland earned a No. 24 ranking in the season's final ESPN/USA Today Coaches Poll, the first time the Terps have appeared in the final ranking since 1992-93.

With the excitement in College Park running high, a record number of fans came to Comcast Center to watch the Terrapins in 2004-05. Over 71,000 fans were in the stands for 17 home games, 32,000 more than the previous season. An ACC-record 17,243 fans witnessed the Terps take on Duke on Feb. 13, 2005, topping the previous record of 14,500 which was held by the Terps, as well. The 17,000-plus fans was also the fourth-largest, regular-season crowd in the nation last season.

The proof of the Terrapins' improvement can be found in the numbers. Maryland's 72.8 scoring average ranked in the top 20 in the nation and was also the highest scoring average in team history since 1992-93. The Terps outrebounded its opponents by a margin of 6.8 rpg, 18th-best in the nation and the largest margin since 1979-80. The team's 42.4 rebounds per game were also the most in 12 years. This year's No. 7 seed in the NCAA Tournament is five spots better than last season's No. 12 seeding.

In 2003-04, just her second season at the Terrapin helm, she took Maryland to an unexpected run to the second round of the 2004 NCAA Tournament and their first tournament victory in 12 years.

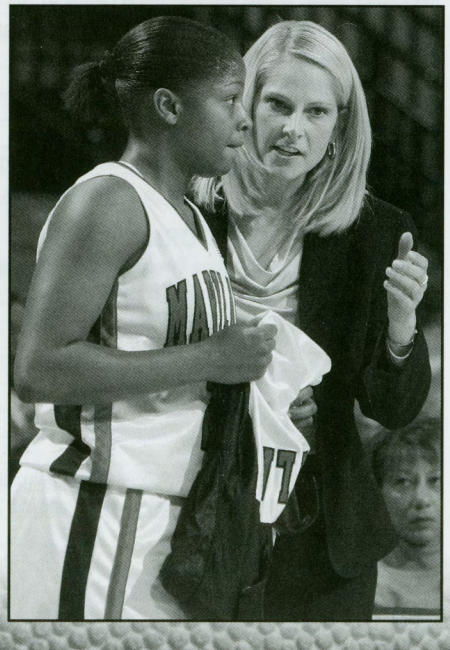
In what was supposed to be the second year of the rebuilding process in 2003-04, Frese instilled confidence into a Maryland squad that went 4-12 in ACC play the season before and was depending on players with limited experience, including two highly touted high school All-Americans in Doron and France. Despite a preseason eighth-place pick, the Terps ran out to a tie for third in the ACC with an 8-8 mark, doubling the conference win total from each of the last two seasons and their best showing since the 1996-97 campaign. Collecting 18 wins overall, the most since 1996-97, Maryland was rewarded with an NCAA Tournament bid, its first since 2000-01, and was the only 12th seed in the tournament to advance when it upset fifth-seeded and future ACC-opponent Miami (Fla.), 86-85.

The 2002-03 season, Frese's first season at the Terps' helm, was the rebuilding year predicted to be. With a roster short on depth but high on effort, Frese led Maryland to a 10-18 record, narrowly missing wins at several junctures. Frese's Terps also notched several positive steps in her first year, including: breaking 100 points in a game for the first time since Dec. 28, 1993; winning their first ACC road game since Feb. 21, 2001; drawing a crowd of 5,078 - the largest at a Maryland women's basketball game to date, since Feb. 24, 1996; and bringing home their first win from Florida State since the 1995-96 campaign.

One of college basketball's rising stars, Frese fits with Maryland's legacy of success. At Minnesota, she earned AP National Coach of the Year honors as well as Big Ten Coach of the Year recognition for turning the Gophers' 8-20 program into a 22-8 team and a top 25 contender in 2001-02. One of the biggest one-season turnarounds in NCAA history, Minnesota set a then-school record with 22 wins and tied for second in the Big Ten with an 11-5 conference mark. Frese also took the Gophers to what was only the school's second NCAA Tournament appearance. The Golden Gophers had also achieved their highest ranking in school history to that point when Minnesota was listed 14th in the Associated Press Top 25 in mid-February and garnered a No. 18 national ranking in the final regular season AP poll.

Frese started her head coaching career during the 1999-2000 season at Ball State, a program that had gone 66-169 in the nine seasons prior to her arrival. She guided the Cardinals to a 16-13 showing in 2000 and garnered Mid-American Coach of the Year honors. Frese led Ball State to a then-school best 19-9 mark in 2000-01, capturing the school's second back-to-back winning seasons in Ball State history. Her final year at Ball State, the 2000-01 team received votes in the AP poll, climbing as high as No. 28 in the country.

She launched her Division I coaching career in 1994 as an assistant coach at Kent State University, helping the Golden Flashes to records of 20-8 (1994) and 17-10 (1995) during her two years there. The Cedar Rapids, Iowa, native then joined Bill Fennelly's staff at Iowa State as the Cyclones' recruiting coordinator, where she assisted in another impressive turnaround, helping ISU to three NCAA Tournament appearances in four years. In 1999, Iowa State was ranked among the nation's Top 25 for the entire season and came within one victory of reaching the Final Four.



Frese is a 1993 graduate of the University of Arizona, where she was a three-year letterwinner for the Wildcats as a guard. After being sidelined with injuries her senior season, she joined the Pima Community College coaching staff in Tucson, Ariz., as an assistant coach in charge of recruiting and scouting.

What They Are Saying About Coach Brenda Frese...

"Under the leadership of Coach Frese, we have made extraordinary progress in the last three years. Her passion for the well being of her student athletes, her determination to win and her faith in the Terps program is a powerful combination. There is no program in the nation better positioned to succeed in the next decade. Over time, she will put Maryland in a position to regularly compete for the national championship."

— Maryland Athletics Director Deborah A. Yow

"Brenda is one of the bright young coaches in the game today. Maryland is very fortunate. She'll do an unbelievable job of adding to the great tradition that Chris Weller had started there."

— National Champion Connecticut Head Coach Geno Auriemma

"Brenda is one of the young dynamic coaches in the game. Obviously, with my being an Old Dominion player, I have known of the Maryland program for years and where it has been and what it has achieved. If you give Brenda time, she will make Maryland one of the top teams not only in the ACC, but I think Maryland has the potential to be a Top-10 team for a long time to come."

— Basketball Hall of Famer and ESPN Basketball Analyst Nancy Lieberman

"Brenda is a proven coach. I'm excited about her youth and enthusiasm. I think she's going to do a tremendous job for Maryland. I congratulate her and I look forward to her being able to make the same type of turnaround she made with the Minnesota program."

— Former ESPN Basketball Analyst Vera Jones

"Brenda is definitely one of the brightest young coaches in America. She's a great student of the game. She will be very successful at Maryland."

— Arizona Head Coach Joan Bonvicini

"I think this is a great hire for the University of Maryland. Brenda will do a great job of continuing the great tradition of Maryland basketball. She is outstanding in all areas needed to lead a program to national prominence. She is hard working and extremely organized. She knows what it takes to find players who can succeed at this level."

— Iowa State Head Coach Bill Fennelly

"I think the University of Maryland made a good choice in hiring Brenda. She is obviously an up-and-coming coach and she did a great job at the University of Minnesota while she was there. She worked for me so I feel I know her a little better than some other people. I think she will do a great job there, I think it was a good hire and I think that five years down the road, the University of Maryland will have a very good team on their hands."

— Kent State Head Coach Bob Lindsay

"Brenda is where we all expected her to be. It seems like every where she touches turns to gold. The scary part is, it's only going to get better. From the conference, to the recruits, to the exposure - it's only going to get better. That's a scary thought."

— 2005 National Coach of the Year LSU Head Coach Pokey Chapman

JEFF WALZ

Assistant Coach • Northern Kentucky '95
Fourth Year at Maryland
11th Year Overall

With over 10 years of collegiate experience, assistant coach Jeff Walz begins his fourth season with the Maryland Terrapins. After stints at Minnesota, Nebraska and Western Kentucky, Walz's career highlights include helping guide his teams to seven NCAA Tournaments, including back-to-back appearances by the Terps, and one WNIT appearance.

"Jeff is extremely talented in many areas. He does a tremendous job on the floor in practices, games and with player development," said head coach Brenda Frese. "He is extremely organized and efficient, and it shows in everything he does for our program."

In three seasons in College Park, the Terps have made marked improvements while Walz has been on the sidelines. Each year, Maryland has seen its scoring average improve while posting the most victories since 1992-93, winning 22 games in 2004-05. The Terps also reached the second round of the NCAA Tournament in 2004 and 2005. During his time, four Terrapins have garnered All-ACC accolades and Crystal Langhorne was tabbed the 2005 ACC Rookie of the Year. He also assisted in the Terrapin coaching staff's recruiting efforts to sign back-to-back top-five ranked recruiting classes in 2004 and 2005.

A scholarship player for Northern Kentucky from 1990-93, Walz was with Frese at Minnesota for one year after coaching for four seasons at Nebraska. At Minnesota, he worked with the posts and centers, including 2002 Big Ten Freshman of the Year Janel McCarville, while also taking on scouting and recruiting efforts for the Gophers during the staff's 22-8 season.

While with the Cornhuskers from 1997-2001, Walz was involved with all aspects of the program, from coordinating the Huskers' recruiting efforts to tracking student-athletes' academics, to scheduling and camps. He helped Nebraska to a school-record, three-straight NCAA Tournament appearances (1998, 1999, 2000) and also coached the L.A. Sparks' No. 1 draft pick in the 2000 WNBA Draft, Nicole Kubik. By his final year at Nebraska, Walz was in charge of conducting individual development workouts, as well as, opponent scouting.

Walz began his collegiate career at Western Kentucky in 1996 after serving as the team's administrative assistant the previous season. He started coaching at the middle and high school levels in 1992 and was an AAU coach from 1995-96. During his career, he has guided such players as 1999 NCAA champion and WNBA standout Ukari Figgs, the University of Tennessee's Kyra Elzy, Ohio State standout Marita Porter and 1996 National High School Player of the Year Jamie Walz, his sister, who now coaches the girls' high school team at their alma mater, Highlands High School.

He attended Northern Kentucky University on a basketball scholarship, graduating with a bachelor of science in secondary education in May 1995. Walz earned his master's in education in August 2000 from Western Kentucky.

Walz exchanged vows with Kim Kumfer on May 17, 2003. The couple resides in Crofton, Md., and are expecting their first child in August.

ERICA FLOYD

Assistant Coach • Ohio State '93
Fourth Year at Maryland
12th Year Overall

Ohio State standout and 11-year assistant coaching veteran Erica Floyd completed Brenda Frese's sideline staff when she, too, made the move from Minnesota to Maryland before the 2002-03 season. Floyd coached with Frese during coaching stints at Minnesota and Kent State and has helped to rebuild the Terrapin program which reached the 2004 NCAA Tournament.

"Erica does a tremendous job with our players and with establishing relationships in the community," said Frese of Floyd. "She is also a big asset in recruiting and is committed to making our program the best it can be."

Floyd's contributions in three years at Maryland have seen the Terps win more games since 1992-93 in 2005 (22), advance to the second round of the NCAA Tournament twice, achieve a No. 15 national ranking, the highest in 12 years, while also mentoring the 2005 ACC Rookie of the Year and four All-ACC performers. Her recruiting efforts have also helped to land the No. 2 recruiting class in 2004 and the No. 4 class in 2005.

At Minnesota, Floyd assisted not only in on- and off-campus recruiting, but also with scouting and film breakdown. The position coach for forwards and centers, she helped guide 2002 Big Ten Freshman of Year Janel McCarville, and also led the Gophers' community service efforts. Minnesota experienced the biggest one-year turnaround in Big Ten history in Floyd's year there, going 22-8 after inheriting a program that had been 8-20 the previous season.

She called Cleveland State home from 1998-2001 and served the Viking program in all capacities. She coached Audra Cook, 2000 Midwestern Collegiate Conference Player of the Year while at Cleveland State and was in charge of coordinating team travel and assisting in recruiting efforts both on- and off-campus. She continued to lend her experience to the forwards and centers and also aided in monitoring academics, scouting and coordinating summer camps.

Floyd joined the coaching ranks at Kent State from 1994-98 where she coached alongside Frese, who was an assistant at the time. A position coach for forwards and centers, she assisted with various aspects of the program including coordinating team travel, scouting and summer camps. A Kent, Ohio, native, she also served as the school's assistant marketing director from 1995-98.

Floyd played at Ohio State from 1989-92, graduating with a bachelor of science in education in 1993. She was on the Buckeye team that shared the 1989 Big Ten title, and as a captain her senior season was also voted Most Improved Player. Following her senior year of high school, Floyd was named the 1988 Gatorade Ohio High School Player of the Year.

Floyd is single and resides in Columbia, Md.

JOANNA BERNABEI

Assistant Coach • West Liberty '97
Third Year at Maryland
Eighth Year Overall

Joanna Bernabei enters her third year as an assistant coach at Maryland, after being hired in June 2003. Bernabei came to College Park from West Virginia, and has helped Maryland reach the second round of the 2004 NCAA Tournament in each of her two seasons, while assisting in the recruiting of back-to-back top-five ranked recruiting classes.

"Joanna is very passionate and her knowledge on the floor has been a big asset to our team," said head coach Brenda Frese. "She works extremely hard in our recruiting efforts and has developed tremendous contacts all over the country."

Since Bernabei's arrival at Maryland, the Terps have won more games in 12 years (22 in 2005), four Terrapins have received All-ACC nods and Crystal Langhorne was tabbed the 2005 ACC Rookie of the Year.

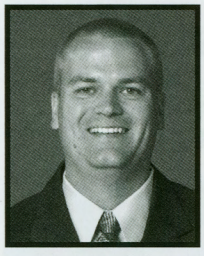
Bernabei served two years at West Virginia as an assistant coach for the Mountaineer women's basketball team where she was a scout, position coach and recruiting coordinator. Before her time as a Mountaineer, Bernabei had a two-year stint at Eastern Kentucky where she was responsible for scouting, individual player development as well as serving as the recruiting coordinator. She gained head-coaching experience in 1998 at West Virginia Wesleyan where she compiled an 18-9 record and a third-place finish in the West Virginia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (WVIAC), while also acting as the school's senior women's administrator.

Bernabei attended West Liberty State where she was a three-time Division II All-American and a four-time first team All-WVIAC selection as a point guard. Named 1997 WVIAC Player of the Year, she currently holds the NCAA Division II career assist record of 1,107 and the single-game record for most assists at 24 which she set against West Virginia State (Feb. 8, 1997). She is one of a handful of players, men or women, to record more than 1,000 points and 1,000 assists in a career, finishing her stellar career with 1,317 total points.

Bernabei also holds NCAA records for assists average per game (9.5) and the school and conference marks for assists in a game, season (294) and career. She led her team to an 80-36 record over four years and is listed on West Liberty's Top 20 All-Time Best Athlete list. She is the first woman to be named first team All-West Virginia Athletic Conference for four years and was West Virginia's 1993 High School Player of the Year.

Bernabei earned her bachelor's degree in exercise physiology in 1997 from West Liberty and a master's degree from Eastern Kentucky in physical education in 1999.

Bernabei married Joe McNamee in her hometown of Weirton, W. Va., on May 22, 2004. The couple now lives in Columbia, Md.



MARK PEARSON

Director of Basketball Operations • Iowa State '96
Fourth Year at Maryland
Ninth Year Overall

Head coach Brenda Frese took care of all the details when she built her staff at Minnesota and brought that winning formula, intact, to Maryland, including Director of Basketball Operations Mark Pearson. In his fourth year, Pearson oversees the general operations of the basketball program, especially the planning of team travel.

"Mark does a tremendous job of overseeing all of our team travel and coordinating our office from top to bottom," said Frese. "Mark does a great job organizing and makes sure everything runs smoothly while also serving as our director of summer camps."

While Pearson was with Frese in Minnesota, he handled team travel, scheduled practices, coordinated camps and assisted with community service. His experience before Minnesota was vast and varied, including knowledge of both the business and the coaching worlds.

Prior to joining the Gophers' athletic department, Pearson spent two years in the sales department of Reuters, Inc., in Ankeny, Iowa. From 1997-99, he was an assistant basketball coach at Iowa Central Community College and was involved in everything from recruiting and scouting, to summer camps, to overseeing student-athletes' academic performances.

He spent two years as an Iowa Central Junior College player before continuing his education at Iowa State. He served as a graduate assistant and manager of the Cyclone men's basketball team from 1993-97. During that time, Iowa State made three trips to the NCAA Tournament, including a Sweet 16 appearance in 1997.

Pearson earned his bachelor's degree in finance from Iowa State in 1996 and a master's of education in sports management from Iowa State in 2003.

Pearson and his wife, Jennifer, reside in Laurel, Md. Their son, B.J., celebrated his fourth birthday on March 1, 2005. The couple's youngest child, Natalie, celebrates her second birthday on July 27, 2005.

2005-06 PRESEASON PREVIEW

Terps loaded with talent and depth

This year's Terrapins feature four returning starters, three recruiting classes ranked in the national top 10 - two in the national top five, two All-ACC honorees, the ACC's Rookie of the Year and six McDonald's All-Americans. With two back-to-back second round NCAA Tournament appearances and reaching the ACC Tournament semifinals in consecutive years, head coach Brenda Frese's squad has the talent and experience to reach new heights.

"This program has come so far in just three short years," said Frese. "To sign and secure six McDonald's All-Americans, it is exciting to think about how we've been able to put Maryland in a position to be a national power."

The challenge for the coaching staff will be to integrate the newcomers, as well as, injured players and get them playing as a team. However, this group not only possesses the talent, but also the determination to come together and build on the successes of the past two seasons.

GUARDS

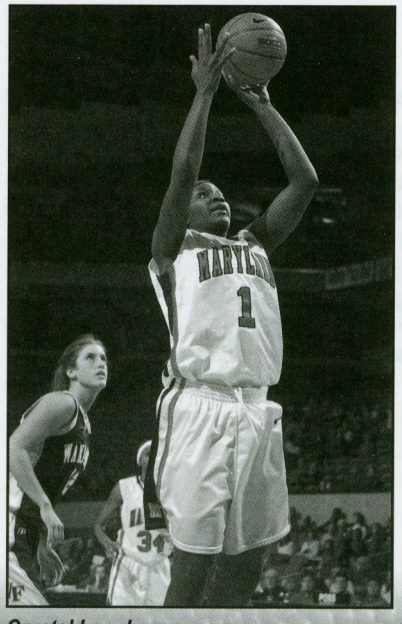
"For the first time in a long time, we're going to have a lot of depth at the guard positions," said Frese. "And the exciting thing is, every guard can defend and score. This gives us a tremendous amount of versatility and options."

Coach Frese will have the luxury of versatility, depth and experience at the guard positions, a commodity she has not had in her previous three seasons. Juniors Shay Doron and Kalika France were called to step in and carry the team since arriving as freshmen, while sophomore Ashleigh Newman gained valuable experience as a reserve last year, proving to be a top three-point threat.

Doron is one of the best in the ACC, leading the team in scoring last year and recording one of the best individual offensive seasons in school history. This resulted in her earning first team all-conference and WBCA Honorable Mention All-American honors. She also assumed the role of backup point guard.

Despite battling through severe tendonitis in both knees throughout the entire season, France started in all but one game and was the team's third-leading scorer and top defender.

Newman played in every game last season, was among the top 10 three-point shooters in the ACC and even ran the point on some occasions. In a career performance, she knocked down seven treys in a half at Clemson.



Crystal Langhorne

Senior Charmaine Carr was moved from the post position to a swing player, giving the Terps a big guard and a tough matchup for opponents. Not only did she provide depth on the perimeter, but was very effective in that role.

Teammates at the McDonald's All-American game, Marissa Coleman and Kristi Toliver, who make up the fourth-best recruiting class in the nation, will be called upon to contribute right away.

With the departure of Anesia Smith, who led the ACC in assists and assist-to-turnover ratio, the Terps will look to Toliver to fill in at that role. Despite her inexperience in the college game, the Parade and McDonald's All-American has the leadership capabilities to run the floor, while also adding a scoring touch and a three-point option.

"The point guard position is the biggest question mark, but we're excited and confident about the skills, talent and leadership that Kristi will bring. We're going to have to grow as a team with Kristi, in terms of how she develops in our system, but she'll be prepared and ready to go.

Coleman has already begun to make a name for herself before stepping foot onto campus. Able to the play the guard or forward positions, the concensus All-American and Washington Post Metro Player of the Year's two years on the USA Under-19 National Team as a teammate of Laura Harper in 2004 and Crystal Langhorne in 2005 will more than prepare her for what the college game has to offer. Coleman not only brings the experience of playing with some of the top collegiate players in the nation, but also offers size and top-level skills to compete for a starting position.

POSTS

Plenty of talent returns to the post position, including the ACC's Rookie of the Year Crystal Langhorne. Langhorne had a remarkable freshman campaign, breaking every freshman class scoring record at Maryland, while also posting one of the best overall seasons in school history. In the summer, she continued to elevate the level of her game as a member of the USA Under-19 National Team, leading the team in scoring.

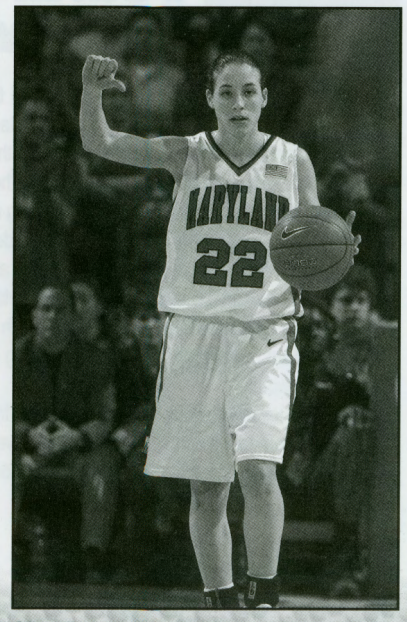
Another question mark will be the health of sophomore Laura Harper. Harper, who was leading the ACC in rebounding when she suffered an injury to her Achilles tendon, is on track with her rehabilitation and looks to be back on the floor this season. Completing the combo in the post, Harper posted three double-doubles in just nine games last season and was named ACC Rookie of the Week after recording 17 points and 16 rebounds against NCAA Final Four participant LSU.

Add to the mix sophomore Jade Perry, who took over the starting job for Harper, junior Aurelie Noirez, senior Angel Ross and swing players Marissa Coleman and Charmaine Carr, the posts will also feature the same talent, depth and versatility as the guards.

Perry is a big presence in the post and, defensively, tough to get around. She won numerous battles playing against some of the top post players in the nation last season and was one of the key reasons in the Terps' upset victory over ACC Champion North Carolina last season.

Noirez missed some games because of injuries, but when she's healthy, is a reliable post player, and provides depth. She can rebound and knock down the mid-range jumper with consistency.

A senior, Ross suffered a knee injury in the offseason, which required surgery, and has been rehabilitating the injury since. Her leadership as one of two seniors on the squad and work ethic on the court will be important to the team's success.



Shay Doron

The versatility of Coleman and Carr will be a big asset to the Terps. With their size and quickness, both present matchup problems for opposing teams.

"Obviously, we have a lot of talent in the post," said Frese. "The big question mark will be Laura Harper. If she comes back healthy, which she's on track to do, she's going to provide us with a tremendous amount of talent and depth. Crystal Langhorne had a tremendous freshman campaign and the experience Jade Perry gained last season, then add Aurelie to the mix, along with Charmaine and Marissa, who can both swing into the post position and we're going to have a lot of versatility and a lot of depth at probably every position except the point guard slot."

SCHEDULE

With the new ACC finally complete with the addition of Boston College in 2005-06, the Terps are facing the toughest schedule under Coach Frese, which includes 14 games against 11 NCAA Tournament teams.

Maryland will play home-and-away contests vs. BC, Duke and Virginia. The Blue Devils are a perennial top-10 team, while the Eagles have been in the top 25 for the last seven years. Maryland's traditional rivals, the Cavaliers made a return to the "big dance" last season.

The Terps host NCAA Tournament participant Florida State, Miami, Clemson and Georgia Tech in their only meetings, and travel to ACC Champion North Carolina, NC State, Virginia Tech and Wake Forest. All four of those teams made postseason appearances, with UNC reaching the NCAA Tournament Elite Eight.

The non-conference slate is highlighted by the Paradise Jam tournament in the U.S. Virgin Islands where the Terps battle against NCAA Final Four participant Tennessee and NCAA finalist Michigan State. Gonzaga rounds out the four teams.

2004-05 SEASON REVIEW

TERPS REACH NCAA SECOND ROUND FOR THE SECOND-STRAIGHT YEAR

For the first time since 1989 and 1990, Maryland reached the second round of the NCAA Tournament in back-to-back years. The seventh-seeded Terps defeated 10th-seeded and 24th-ranked UW-Green Bay, 65-55, in the first round to advance.

Maryland's berth into the 2005 NCAA Tournament marked the first time since 1992 and 1993 the Terps have played in the postseason event in consecutive years.

TERPS HOST NCAA TOURNAMENT

In July 2004, Comcast Center was selected as one of eight predetermined sites for the first and second rounds of the NCAA Tournament. College Park has been host to the tournament eight times and is the only school in the state to ever host an NCAA Women's Basketball Division I Tournament game. However, it was the first time the Comcast Center has hosted an NCAA Tournament game.

Prior to the 2005 tournament, it had been 12 years since a NCAA Tournament game had been played in College Park. In 2005, second-seeded Ohio State, 10th-seeded UW-Green Bay and 15th-seeded Holy Cross were sent to Comcast Center to play their first and second-round contests, with each team looking to move on to the Philadelphia Regional. With the tournament format having changed to eight sites and 16 teams at each venue, No. 4 Penn State, No. 5 DePaul, No. 12 Virginia Tech and No. 13 Liberty from the Chattanooga Regional also played at Comcast Center to open their tournament action.

TERPS WIN 20 GAMES

With its 66-55 win over Clemson in the first round of the ACC Tournament, the Terps won its 20th-win of the season, the first time since 1992-93 Maryland had reached the 20-win plateau. The Terrapins went on to upset No. 19/21 NC State in the semifinals (63-56), then topped No. 24/21 UW-Green Bay (65-55) in the first round of the NCAA Tournament for 22 victories, the most in 12 years.

TERPS 24TH IN FINAL COACHES POLL

For the first time in 12 years, Maryland was ranked in the final ESPN/USA Today Coaches Poll, earning a No. 24 rating. The Terps ended the season with a No. 7 seeding in the NCAA Tournament, reaching the second round for the second-straight year, while also posting wins over No. 19/21 NC State in the ACC Tournament and No. 24/21 UW-Green Bay.

Maryland had been ranked in the Coaches Poll for 16-consecutive weeks, earning a No. 16 ranking on January 16, its highest of the season and the highest since 1992-93.

TERPS ACHIEVE HIGHEST RANKING IN 12 YEARS

After upsetting its first top-five opponent since 1992-93 when it defeated North Carolina, Maryland made the second-largest leap in the Associated Press poll the week of Jan. 10, jumping six spots from No. 21 to No. 15, the team's highest rating since earning a No. 11 final ranking in 1993.

LANGHORNE ACC ROOKIE OF THE YEAR; TWO EARN ALL-ACC NODS

Earning 64 of 74 votes, Maryland's Crystal Langhorne was named the 2005 ACC Rookie of the Year, the fourth Terrapin in school history to win the award and the first since 1991. Langhorne, who was the only player in the ACC to average a double-double, led the ACC in rebounding with 10.6 boards a game, also the third-highest season average in school history. She also finished the season sixth in the ACC in scoring with just over 17 points per game. Tabbed the ACC's Preseason Rookie of the Year, she also led the conference and was sixth in the nation with 18 double-doubles.

Langhorne was also voted second team All-ACC, becoming the highest honored rookie Terrapin in school history. Breaking the school freshman class record for points and rebounds, she also earned 43 first-team votes, the most for any league freshman. Teammate Shay Doron was named first team all-conference, the first Terrapin to earn the honor since 1994. Third in the ACC in scoring, she also ranked in the top 15 in three other categories. Both Doron and Langhorne scored over 500 points each during the 2004-05 campaign, the first time since the 1988-89 season two Terps were over 500 points in the same year.

The two All-ACC selections for Maryland are the most since 2000.

DORON NAMED KODAK ALL-REGION

Shay Doron added to her list of postseason accolades, earning a spot on the Kodak/WBCA Region II All-American Team. The ninth player in school history to be named regional All-American, she is the first player in 12 years to earn the award and only the second sophomore in school history.

Doron, who was eventually named KODAK/WBCA Honorable Mention All-American, was third in the ACC in scoring and also ranked in the top 15 in the conference in free throw percentage, assists and steals. At Florida State, Doron tallied 39 points, tying the single-game school record, five days after leading the Terps to a big upset over then-No. 5/4 North Carolina, 92-77, netting 37 points.

Doron's 562 points on the season is the fifth-highest, single-season scoring output in school history. She also broke Maryland's season free throw mark for the second-consecutive year, netting 145.

SMITH A FINALIST FOR TOP POINT GUARD

Anesia Smith was selected a finalist for the Nancy Lieberman Award, given to the nation's top point guard. Smith dished out more assists in her senior season that her first three years, combined. Her 214 assists on the year are the third most in school history. She was fifth in the nation and first in the ACC with 6.7 assists per game. Her 1.98 assist-to-turnover ratio was also the best in the league.

FRESE TALLIES 100TH VICTORY

On Feb. 3, 2005 vs. Georgia Tech, the Terps handed Maryland head coach Brenda Frese her 100th-career victory.

A six-year head coaching veteran, Frese, who just completed her third season at the Terrapin helm, won her first game as a head coach at Ball State in 1999.

With the Terps win over UW-Green Bay in the first round of the NCAA Tournament, Frese also notched her 50th victory as head coach of the Terps.

TERPS SET ATTENDANCE RECORDS

Terp fans set a new school record as over 71,000 spectators attended 17 home game last season, over 32,000 more fans than the previous mark which was set in 2003-04.

Maryland also recorded the largest women's basketball crowd in ACC history and the eighth-largest in the nation in 2004-05 when 17,243 fans witnessed the Terrapins take on Duke on Feb. 13, 2005. The figure topped the previous record of 14,500 which Maryland also held. The Terps now hold the top three ACC attendance records of all time.

All-Time Top ACC Attendances

1.	17,243	Duke at Maryland, Feb. 13, 2005 Comcast Center, College Park, Md.
2.	14,500	Virginia at Maryland, Feb. 12, 1992 Cole Field House, College Park, Md.
3.	13,446	Duke at Maryland, Feb. 22, 2004 Comcast Center, College Park, Md.

TERPS TOPPLE HEELS

Maryland recorded its first victory over a top-five team since 1992-93 when it defeated then-No. 5/4 North Carolina, 92-77, on Jan. 9, 2005, at Comcast Center. The defeat was one of only five on the season for eventual ACC Champion UNC, and the only double-digit setback.

The Terps defeated three ranked squads in 2004-05, the most victories over ranked teams since the 2000-01 campaign.
